

Dr Jonathan Adams

Director of Research Evaluation
Thomson Reuters

Dr Jonathan Adams was the lead founder of Evidence Ltd, and is now Director of Research Evaluation for Thomson Reuters Scientific. He has published over 100 articles in research journals and scholarly books on research policy.

Between 1979 and 1989 he has worked at different universities and colleges in the UK. After that he was a member of the science policy staff of the Advisory Board for the Research Councils and Leeds University's Director of Research Strategy. Amongst others he recently was a member of the Australian Research Council (ARC), chaired the EC Monitoring Committee for the Evaluation of FP6 and has been invited to be an expert advisor to the interim evaluation of FP7.