

Dr Rajesh Tandon

President

Society for Participatory Research in Asia (PRIA)

New Delhi

Dr. Rajesh Tandon is President of PRIA (Society for Participatory Research in Asia), a non-profit, non-governmental International Centre for Learning and Promotion of Participation and Democratic Governance.

His professional career started as an active intervener in the processes of social change in rural areas. He set up Society for Participatory Research in Asia and built PRIA as a vehicle to strengthen learning opportunities at the grassroots. Civil society coalition is a passion for Dr. Tandon. He is the founding member of CIVICUS (World Alliance for Citizen Participation), the largest CSO network.

He was honored with the Award in Social Justice in March 2007 by the Government of India for his distinguished work on gender issues.

He did his PhD (Organizational Science), from the University of Cleveland, USA, graduation in Engineering from IIT Kanpur and MBA from IIM-Calcutta.
