

Mr Riad Joseph

Partner, Tax and Regulatory Services

Ernst & Young

Mr Riad Joseph is a Partner in the Tax and Regulatory Practice of E&Y and has significant experience in providing tax and policy assistance to stakeholders in the education sector.

Some of his experiences include advising a leading US University in formulating an Indian entry plan from a policy perspective including discussions with Central & State Governments; corporate and education groups in tax and regulatory structuring of their education operations in India; a leading corporate house in structuring its entry in the K12 business. He has also advised a large corporate group in developing the regulatory concept for its education city, foreign universities in understanding the diverse regulations applicable to the higher education sector, a leading deemed university in tax and regulatory structuring of its education operations in India and has led the Regulatory team in authoring the Firm's thought leadership publications for leading industry bodies

He is a Chartered Accountant by qualification.